

Accommodation

Travel back to the 50's and experience what it's like to live in a different time. We do not have electricity or running water here, so life is simple on our little island. That means there's no dish washer or electric heaters – you do the dishes by hand and light a fire in the wood stove. You can choose between staying in the houses on the southern end, where the pier and most of the buildings are, or in our charming huts in Kobbevika and Hellemolla. Additionally, we also have two new fabric goahtis, each situated on the southern and northern end of the island. You'll live in the middle of "nowhere", but be equipped with everything you need to stay comfortably.

Transportation by RIB boat

The trip with us to Tamsøya begins at 18:00 (6pm) on the old ferry pier in Repvåg. You can park your car for free along the fence of the large blue house with a red barn. From there, you'll be a passenger on our 600 horse powered, 35 feet RIB boat, and it'll take about 15 minutes to reach the island. The boat has a passenger capacity of 12, and everyone will be equipped with regatta (floatation) suits and life vests.

Total price to and from the island per person 1400 NOK
